SOCIAL SCIENCE

Chapter.- First Empire (History)

A timeline is an actual picture of events that happened in history. A linear timeline shows a picture of events as they occurred in a certain period of time. Use a linear timeline for one subject and time frame. A linear timeline can be written horizontally or vertically, for example:

Writing Your Timeline

1. Gather all the dates and events that happened on those dates mentioned in your History Chapter: First Empire After you have gathered your facts, you are now ready to lay them out in chronological order to create a timeline. At the beginning of your timeline, mark the starting date and what happened on that date. Next, go to the end of the timeline and mark the ending date and what happened. In between these dates, mark the other important dates and what happened. Collect pictures related to those events and paste on the corresponding dates as shown in the example above.
2. Solve the cross word puzzle on page no. 56 (History)
3. Geography : Word Search (page no. 163)
